Subject: Fee Disclosure to Participants

I am contacting the Department concerning the proposed rule making around fee and expense disclosures to participants in 401(k) plans. I am in favor of full disclosure. With this additional information, plan participants will have available additional information to make a more informed decision about how they wish to direct the investment of "their" money. The participant is paying for this service. When a service is provided one needs to know what the service is costing and what is being provided.

Sincerely,

John Sutton
