General Comment

As we lose our freedoms on a daily basis, there seems to be no end to Gov't interference in peoples lives. Everyday there is another story about some new regulation designed to cure a problem that doesn't exist or to fix a problem which the Gov't created.I sometimes wonder if there aren't people who stay awake dreaming of new ways to interfere with peoples lives! We presently have so many regulations that the country is being smothered ! Is it any wonder there are no jobs left in this country they are being strangled , and yet there is no stopping! It's a good thing the country was founded when it was, in this current environment there would be no country! Unless that's the plan? Or this the price of bloated Gov't trying to justify it's existence! Please leave my retirement alone I can take care of myself I always have Thank You
