To Whom It May Concern:

I urge you to rescind the unjust and coercive mandate that all "contraceptives" and sterilization procedures be covered by private health insurance with no co-pay to patients. If not, expand the conscience protections for any organizations that provide individual and group insurance and have moral or religious objections. I strongly oppose the government forcing free insurance coverage on Americans using drugs and devices that can cause an abortion (such as ella and Plan B).

Also change your definition of religious employer and offer an authentic conscience protection for any organization and business that has moral or religious objection to providing such insurance to their employees. Your definition includes churches only, but exempts a host of businesses and organizations that have conscience objections who will be required to choose between either violating their conscience or not being able to offer employees health insurance.

I demand that you protect the conscience rights of insurers, providers and people like me who object to being forced by the federal government to offer or subsidize contraceptives and sterilization services, especially when some of these drugs can take the life of early unborn children.

If you persist in forcing taxpayers like me without representation and consideration, come November, I'll do everything in my power to see that you are reduced in size if not removed entirely from government.

Sincerely,
Matthew Kramer
