To Whom It May Concern:

I am urging you to rescind the mandate to make private health insurance pay for all contraceptives and sterilization procedures with no co-pay to patients. You are forcing organizations with moral and/or religious objections to cover in their health plans drugs and devices that go against their beliefs and can cause abortions.

Please redefine your term of "religious employer" to include groups that have moral objections and expand the conscience protections to all who disprove of these intrusions. Americans should not have to be forced by the government to pay for services they object to.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Catherine Osornio
