To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing today that you ensure women have access to full health care services, including all contraceptives and sterilization procedures under their private health insurance. I strongly oppose the government forcing the religious views of groups such as Family Research Council on private insurance coverage.

The Government has no right to dictate to women what types of treatment they and their doctors choose to protect health.

Please protect our basic freedoms and principles, including separation of church and state.

Sincerely,
Janice Sengupta
