To Whom It May Concern:

Forcing insurance companies and ultimately private citizens to pay for contraceptives (many of which can actually cause very early abortions) and sterilizations is wrong. I strongly object to this policy. This policy violates my conscience and religious beliefs as well as those of millions of other Americans.

I am very very disturbed at the direction our country is taking especially since the Obama administration has taken office. You can be sure my 2012 vote will reflect my concern.
