General Comment

As a Catholic nurse, I urge you to amend the health care reform law which mandates private health plans and private medical facilities to be complicit in matters involving contraception, pregnancy and abortion. Even mandating taxpayer reimbursement of breast pumps is ludicrous!!

This seems to violate moral and religious liberties in a way which is unprecedented in our country, especially in today's culture which is constantly preaching sensitivity to all religious and sexual persuasions, practices and beliefs.

This law based just on the list of exemptions granted already is deeply flawed. We need to add religious conscience to that list of exemptions and then work to repeal and re-work this monstrous mistake.
