General Comment

Dear Secretary Sebelius,

As a Master of Public Health student specializing in reproductive health, I encourage you to acknowledge that contraception is a vital part of preventive care for women, and access to wide-ranging contraceptive care is in the best interest of women's health, children, and our communities. I am writing to ask you to please support cost-sharing for contraception. No woman in America, the richest country in the world, should have to suffer an unwanted pregnancy due to not having access to contraception.

Thank you,

Catherine Packer
