General Comment

I urge NO pension investments in fossil fuels. Data shows they are increasingly risky and underperform in the market. Further, investing in fossil fuels slows the necessary transition to clean renewable energy. At this time we know without a doubt that fossil fuels create a threat to the health of the planet and humankind. There are many other investments that have a greater return which can be beneficial to all as we move forward. I personally do not want a retirement funded by fossil fuels which ultimately destroy the planet's livability. I want to know my retirement funds make a positive difference. I am sure there are MANY others who feel this way as well. Thank you.
