It is the duty of every American to obey the law. Full stop. If I were convicted of dealing heroin, I would not be allowed to continue dealing other people heroin while my trial for dealing John Public heroin was underway. If I were a doctor who sneezed firing heart durgery and punted a donor organ through an observation window, I wouldn't be allowed to operate the next day while the corpse of my patient was sitting in the hospital morgue. These people have proven that they cannot be trusted with managing assets. Why are they allowed to still manage ████████ assets? This is ridiculous. Fix it.
